900 MORE MIGRANTS COMING

A special migrant steamer, Wooster Victory, will reach Melbourne late this afternoon with 900 Balts and Yugoslavs from displaced persons' camps in Germany and the Sinai Desert.

The Yugoslavs number 425. They are chiefly ex-service-men and former guerilla fighters who left their homes in 1944 with wives and families because of the political turmoil and went to a desert settlement in Egypt.

They developed the settlement into a self-supporting community and set up a school to teach English to adults and children.

DRAFTED LATER

The wives and older girls are skilled in hand-weaving, lace-making and fine embroidery.

There are 475 Balt migrants. The party will entrain at Port Melbourne for Bonegilla. Later, they will be drafted to farms and industry for two years.

The Wooster Victory is under charter to the International Refugee Organisation.

30th November, 1948

Director General of Health,
CANBERRA, A.C.T.

This transport was a great contrast to previous transports. Half the ship embarked in Italy as D.P.'s from Germany and half from Egypt as Yugoslav ex-servicemen and families. This Yugoslav contingent plus those from Europe formed the great portion of the ship brought about a very difficult position in regard to the old established order for German was practically unknown to the Yugoslav, and Yugoslav interpreters were necessary. Our R.A.P. medical orderly, who had covered successfully the whole Northern European field in the language range, was at a complete loss, and we had constantly to use a Yugoslav interpreter. Due to polyglot population of the Middle East, many of the dependents of the Yugoslav men were of many Southern European nationalities, Greek, Italian, Egyptian etc., and so we found French and Italian necessary in our work. Should this type of transport continue it will probably be necessary to employ a Southern European as well. We managed to meet the difficulty at the moment by employing a Czech in place of Bruno Poriters our previous orderly, and he is able to make himself understood to the Yugoslavs.

Then there was a marked difference between the D.P.'s selected in Europe and those from Egypt. In Europe the fairly rigid standards seem to have been maintained, although the average age has increased by more than 10 years among the adults, but the selection in Egypt is very peculiar. The most motley collection of people have been passed. These people probably are a true representation of their country, a more complete cross section than the middle class Baltic section. Being mostly ex-service personnel they range through all social classes, and as a result consist of some of the best physical specimens we have had and at the same time some of the most extraordinary physical types, such as a very severe old Potts disease of the spine, and a man with complete paralysis of the muscles of his lower leg (a war injury, however). The age of many of the Yugoslav dependents is far greater than I would consider desirable in immigrants and they will be profitable neither productively or reproductively. I feel that if a keen selection of Yugoslav personnel from Egypt had been enforced we would have secured a very fine batch of immigrants, instead of the extraordinary assortment we have this time.

MALE PERSONNEL.

Taken generally the males present a fairly good group, although many unusual people have been passed. Many of the men from Germany have had recent hernia operations, apparently at the request of the Australian Commission, and so are suitable for the time being for light work only. Otherwise the Males seem of fair standard.

FEMALE.

One great change is in the age of the women. Many of the women from Egypt are far too old for immigration but this is probably balanced by the great fertility of the younger Yugoslav women who comprise majority of the pregnant women.

PREGNANT WOMEN.

These are the largest number so far.

RADULOVIC, Ljubica	8 months
MILOSAVLJEVIC,	3 months
KASPER, Wacława	3 months
VUJOVIC, Czesława	6½ months
SUGUR, Meta	2 months
AUGUSTYN, Paulina	2 months
LALIC, Marija	3 months
VICKOVIC, Anka	6 months
LUKETINA, Zorka	4 months
CVETICANIN, Zelenka	3 months
LOMAIN, Tchonila	4 months
SENIUK, Marija	6 months
LESIW, Anna	4 months
KOSCICA, Staka	7½ months
CELOVIC, Yolanda	2 months
PRIJA, Marica	3 months
Netta, Hanna	6 weeks

As before we attempted to move the late pregnancies 7 - 8 months to Bathurst, but the Director of this Camp informed me that Bathurst was not accepting these cases. A direction about the disposal of these advanced pregnancies for future reference would be desirable as this camp is most unsuitable for the accommodation of nursing mothers.

CHILDREN.

This was the largest number so far, about 158 children under 16 years of whom 80 or more were under 6 years. As a result of the crowded ship and the difficulties of adequately looking after the children, nearly all were suffering from general malnutrition and all had colds, many had gastro intestinal disorders, and some were badly wasted. Two children, very young twins apparently died from gastro-enteritis while on the voyage. In my opinion it is undesirable that so many young children should be carried on one ship, when it is difficult to look after them adequately. The children from Egypt contrast very strongly with the children from Europe who are much better physical specimens. However the Yugoslav children vary enormously apparently varying with their social class. One contingent of Yugoslavs consists of 6 brothers with 23 children between them, all of whom do not measure up to the best health standards.

One child was taken from the ship to an infectious diseases hospital in Melbourne as a Scarlet fever suspect, but this was not proved and the child returned to camp after 10 days, quite well. No further cases were found, although sore throats and respiratory disorders were very common. Taken generally, the children from Europe were in good health, while those from Egypt were not so well, but should improve rapidly.

X-RAYS.

Many further X-rays were requested by Dr. Wonderly who has discovered several cases which should not have been passed. Personal enquiry from some of them, revealed that the X-ray system in Egypt was incredibly slip shod as regard taking the films, whatever the interpretation was like.

It is difficult to understand and the general impression of this s ing.
Where a choice is available, surely d accept second rate specimens. I would e.

still I do not know the system used and we
Those from Germany are much better selec helpful

OTHER CASES.

One other man from "Wooster Victory" became insane and suicidal, Petro ZARUBAJKO, and had to be transferred to Beechworth Mental Institution. I have hopes of his recovery, but the Superintendent of Beechworth Mental Hospital informs me that there is no hope for the earlier admission KOWALIW who is incurable, and he has inquired of the possibility of the repatriation of this patient.

In addition there is another psychiatric case in the camp, FROLOWICZ, Lew, who is unfit for work in Australia and should be returned to Germany. He is ex "Svalbard" and suffers from a form of hysteria.

This once again raises the question of the return of personnel to the Centre for various reasons, including medical ones. It is apparent that a difficult situation will arise in the next 12 months as the lag increases with each transport. Whether the holding camps will simplify this is doubtful. The increase in TB cases presents a grave problem as the proportion of definite cases seem to be about 4 for 1000 which is approximately the proportion in the unexamined Australian population.

This is my last transport and it might be of interest to sum up after 9 months experience. The noticeable change has been in the increased age of adults, predominance of married couples, and increases number of children. The true supply of Balts has dried up quickly. The Estonian supply has practically vanished and Latvians and Lithuanians are less, as the supply of Poles and Yugoslavs increases. If the present progress is maintained, we will gain some excellent family groups but more care should be taken over the selection of people from an employment point of view. I feel that we are in the nature of cattle buyers choosing stock and humanitarian motives should not outweigh commonsense.

It has been an interesting experience to be associated with such a scheme and I regret that I have been unable to pursue this interest further in Europe.

I hope the scheme proceeds as successfully as possible despite some gloomy and, I hope, unfounded predictions.

DISPLACED PERSONS ex S.S. "WOOSTER VICTORY"

Commonwealth Migration Officer,
MELBOURNE.

I desire to report that with Mr. Joynes I boarded the S.S. "Wooster Victory" at 6 p.m. on the 16th November, 1948 at Station Pier, Port Melbourne.

As a wireless message had been received from the captain of the "Wooster Victory" that Marija Gorjup (El Shatt Roll No. 103) aged 5 months had died on the 14th November, 1948, Mr. Eastwood of Sleight Pty. Ltd. (Undertakers) boarded the ship on the evening of the 16th November to convey the body to Sleight's Mortuary Chapel to arrange for the burial of the child.

Mr. Karlo Gorjup, father of the deceased child, was contacted and on behalf of the Immigration Department I expressed sympathy at the loss of his two children, Francis who died on 5/11/1948, buried at sea, Marija who died on 14/11/1948. He was informed of the funeral arrangements for the following day and also informed that a number of his intimate friends would be permitted to be present at the burial.

Two mourning cars conveyed Mr. Gorjup (father of deceased child) and six intimate friends, Mr. Finckenhagen, Escort Officer on the "Wooster Victory" and myself from Station Pier at 8.30 a.m. on the 17th November to Sleight's Mortuary Chapel and thence to the Brighton Cemetery where the burial took place at about 9 a.m.

Major-General Lloyd informed Mr. Finckenhagen, I.R.O. Escort Officer that the funeral expenses would be paid by the International Refugees Organisation.

Mr. Gorjup expressed appreciation of the kindness shown to him by the Department in the arrangements made for the funeral.

The onward movement of the Displaced Persons in "Wooster Victory" to Bonegilla scheduled for the 17th November was delayed on account of the Transport strike until the morning of the 18th November, 1948.

Ratimir Miletic (Elghatt Roll No. 266) aged three years developed symptoms of Scarlet Fever and was conveyed to Fairfield Infectious Hospital on the evening of the 17th November 1948.

On Thursday 18th November, 1948 at 8.30 a.m. the first train under the control of Mr. A. Neigard left Station Pier with 456 Displaced Persons from Bonegilla. The second train left at 9.45 a.m. with Mr. F. Tabbiner in charge of the 446 Displaced Persons on board.

Due to the excess luggage of the D.P.s it was necessary to requisition two additional louvre vans, which left Station Pier by goods train in the evening of the 18th November, 1948 for Bonegilla.

DISPLACED PERSONS EX S.S. "WOOSTER VICTORY"

Commonwealth Migration Officer,
MELBOURNE.

I desire to report that I accompanied Messrs. Weale, Tabbiner, Evans and Niegard and boarded the s.s. "Wooster Victory" at approximately 11 a.m on the 16th November, 1948 off Gellibrand Light.

On arrival on board, it was ascertained that 893 migrants and the body of one child were on board. Papers comprising Passenger Cards (Inward) Photographs, Letters of Authority and Forms 16 together with X-Ray and other medical documents had been collected by the I.R.O. official and these were handed to Mr. Weale.

Discrepancies in Photographs, Letters of Authority and Forms 16 were noted. For complete detail in this regard see copy of Escort Officer's report attached.

Medical examination of migrants was completed at approximately 1.30 p.m and the ship's lounge made available to the Immigration Staff.

Two deaths on the voyage were reported by the Master of the s.s. "Wooster Victory" namely Franica Gorjup (El Shatt Roll No.104) aged 5 months - died 5.11.1948 - buried at sea.

Marija Gorjup (El Shatt Roll No.103) aged 5 months - died 14/11/48 brought ashore for burial on Tuesday 16th November, 1948. Funeral supervised by Mr. Donohue. A separate report in this matter will be submitted by that officer.

Ratimir Miletic (El Shatt Roll No.266) aged 3 years - developed symptoms of scarlet fever and was transferred from the ship to Fairfield Infectious Diseases Hospital on the evening of 17th November, 1948.

On completion of the Medical Officer's inspection, a check of documents was undertaken by Messrs. Weale, Tabbiner, Evans and myself, following which registration of migrants commenced and was continued until approximately 5 p.m when the ship berthed at Station Pier, Port Melbourne.

Consequent on the 24 hour transport stoppage Messrs. Tabbiner and Evans remained aboard overnight. Registrations were continued throughout Wednesday, 17th November, 1948 and in all, approximately 360 registrations were completed before entraining for Bonegilla on the 18th November, 1948.

On Thursday 18th November, 1948 two trains departed from the ship's side for Bonegilla. The first train under the

It is also desired to bring to your attention the capable, courteous and efficient manner in which the I.R.O. Escort Officer, Mr. Finchuihagen, prepared the records and subsequently assisted the Immigration Officers concerned.

Attached is a copy of Mr. Wilson's report on his activities on the Wooster Victory.

Mr. Ewers boarded the ship in Melbourne and spent most of the day with Mr. Wilson. He had a good organisation on board; his report covers that adequately. The captain and officers of the ship and the I.R.O. representative expressed profound admiration for Wilson's work; the captain gave an entirely unsolicited testimonial that could not have been more enthusiastic - nor more volubly Italian. All of the groups of migrants to whom ~~he~~ was introduced or spoke expressed sincere appreciation. The impressive feature in all cases was the spontaneity of the expressions of appreciation.

Mr. Drake of the Department of Information was to go aboard ship after she berthed and get a story and pictures covering, inter alia, the work of the Education Officer.

Itinerary of "Wooster Victory"

Saturday, 16th October, 4 pm: Sailed from Genoa with 475 people from the British and American Zones of Germany.

Wednesday, 20th October, 6 pm: Arrived at Port Said.

Thursday, 21st October, 4 am: Entered Suez Canal. From 10am - 6 pm waited in the Canal for stream of ships to pass.

Friday, 22nd October, 2 am: Arrived at Suez. In the early morning, before dawn, the heavy baggage of the incoming passengers was taken aboard and about 10 am the passengers themselves embarked. The 417 new passengers arrived from El Chatt Desert Camp in large barges. The ship left Suez at 3pm.

Tuesday, 26th October, 8 am: Arrived at Aden to get oil. Ship sailed again at 4.30 pm.

Monday, 1st November, 4 pm: Arrived at Colombo to get oil and water and to embark two more passengers left behind by "Charlton Sovereign".

Tuesday, 2nd November, 4 pm: Departed from Colombo.

Tuesday, 16th November: Arrived at Melbourne.

Activities on Board.

1. Lectures about Australia: For the first five days I gave a daily lecture in German over the ship's loudspeaker network but after the Suez group embarked it was found more practicable to gather the people in national groups. The Jugoslavs were so numerous that, for this purpose, they were divided into A and B groups. Attendance at such lectures was quite voluntary and the groups, comprising mainly the men and single women, consisted generally of from 30 to 40 people.

These lectures proved very pleasant. They were made as informal as possible. Sitting in the middle of a group on the deck or in the saloon or dining room, I confined my lectures mostly to subjects that the immigrants themselves expressed an interest in. Needless to say, practical subjects such as working and living conditions held most interest for them. For example, the ladies were much more anxious to know the price of a pair of shoes in Australia than the height of Mount Kosciuszko.

Half of every lecture period was devoted to answering questions and often the whole time was devoted to question and answer. Set lectures on such subjects as history and geography were much less interesting than discussions arising from questions and answers. It was found far better to introduce history and geography as a background in the answering of questions. There was however a genuine interest in such things as Australian plant and animal life and Australian customs and culture.

I found that the experience gained in Europe was of great value in drawing comparisons between conditions in Europe and Australia and through it I had a much better understanding of these people and the environment from which they came.

In addition to the set lectures and discussions, of course, hundreds of questions were asked as I strolled around or sat on the deck and mixed with the people. Perhaps some of the most effective work was done in this informal way. Of course many firm friendships had already been established with people I had been associated with at Seedorf Camp.

2. English Classes: In response to a very great demand, English classes were arranged at the outset amongst the Genoa Group. Many of these people had already been taught by me for seven weeks in Seedorf Camp and they naturally expected that the learning of English would be continued on the ship. Although I realise teaching English was not a part of my contract, I felt that much useful work could be done in the four-weeks' trip. So, with the assistance of 12 volunteer teachers, classes were arranged on the second day out. All these teachers could speak good English and, though only one was a trained teacher, all showed great enthusiasm and the classes, ranging in size from 15 to 40, continued throughout the voyage, though there were many interruptions in the Indian Ocean owing to bad weather and seasickness among teachers and pupils.

Classes were also started among the Suez embarkees but of 8 teachers who volunteered at the outset, only 3 were functioning at the end of the trip, mainly because the last two weeks' bad weather rendered so many women seasick that husbands were fully occupied attending to their wives and minding the children. Of course most of the family groups with small children were in the Suez contingent. The Estonian group was without a teacher so I took this group myself for one lesson each day and also encouraged the other teachers by giving demonstration lessons and advice.

The lack of sufficient blackboards, writing materials and elementary grammars was felt in this work. With so much time on their hands, no better occupation could be found for the many immigrants anxious to learn English than the study of the language. Very many did not attend classes but studied privately or in twos and threes with the help of grammar books in their possession.

3. Grading into English groups: This was done soon after each group embarked. I interviewed each person individually, except that heads of families were allowed to give information about their wives and children. In interviewing I obtained, in the case of each group, the services of a man who knew the immigrants well so as to check information supplied and also to help with interpreting.

Of course this classifying had to be done much too hastily to be thoroughly reliable. Moreover, it was done at the beginning of the voyage and many learned quite a lot of English on the way. Thus the lists supplied, dividing the passengers into 4 groups (good, fair, poor English and no English) will be far from perfect but it is hoped they will prove of some use, especially if Camp Staffs have to deal with a rush of immigrants.

4. Library: "Wooster Victory" is fortunate in having 2 fine saloons for passengers. The smaller of these was used as a library, reading room and class room. On the walls were displayed maps and pictures of Australia and with the generous help of the ship's carpenter an excellent set of bookshelves was made and painted in one day to hold the library of Australian books. Five ladies volunteered as librarians and all carried on their duties most efficiently to the end of the trip. The ship's office stencilled a library register for borrowings. The title of the book, the name of the borrower and his number were recorded and every person signed for each book borrowed. The library was open from 12 - 5 each afternoon. About 400 borrowings were made on the trip and questions asked by passengers testified to the intelligent reading of the books. As a large number of the immigrants could read English, the library proved most popular.
5. Entertainment: Films and dancing were held on alternate nights throughout the voyage. The ship had 16 light films and I had 16 and every alternate night two of each were shown. The cinema was very popular. In the hot weather it was held on the deck and in the cooler evenings in the dining room. The ship's electricians acted as operators. The Australian films proved very interesting and instructive for the immigrants, but for a 31-day voyage, more films are required. The ship, too, did not have a large repertoire of gramophone records. Dancing was held either on the deck or in the large saloon, music being supplied by the ship's gramophone, accompanied often by two piano accordians, a guitar and a violin played by passengers.

Three concerts were organised by the concert committee appointed for the trip. Three choirs, Lithuanian, Latvian and Ukrainian rendered items, and songs and dancing were presented by the Yugoslav children in national dress. The chairman of the concert committee was Mr. J. Briedis, who was also conductor of the Lithuanian choir. Mr. V. Varda did excellent work in organising the Yugoslav children and in leading community singing with his piano-accordion. Two members of the ship's company, Messrs. Stagnaro and Castiglia, with violin and guitar, also readily gave their services to entertain the people.

On Saturday, 30th October, a children's party was held at 3 pm. For this the welfare money handed to me at Suez was used. Each child received sandwiches, fruit, sweets and cocoa and most of the children wore national costumes. This was followed by children's games, music and dancing on the deck.

Equator Day was somewhat dampened by the rough conditions which caused much seasickness but the full programme for the day was carried out. In the morning were children's games and music, followed by a special equatorial lunch (at which fruits and sweets from the welfare fund were distributed to each passenger).

Then, in the afternoon came the Neptune Ceremony in which most of the ship's officers participated. About 100 people were baptised with all pomp and ceremony by the Escort Officer and every passenger received the special certificate prepared in 3 languages and signed by the captain. A concert in the dining room at night concluded the day's proceedings.

Other activities arranged to entertain the passengers were an "international" tug-o'-war contest and chess and bridge tournaments. Passengers readily helped with all arrangements.

6. Translation Duties: The Escort Officer asked me to take charge of all translation work. This concerned mostly:

1. The oral translation of the "daily orders" each morning through the loudspeaker system,

2. the written translation of these orders for posting on the four notice-boards and

3. the translation of the ship's daily news bulletins, which were always followed with great interest by the passengers. The three languages used were English, German and Yugoslav. The translation into German was done by Mr. and Mrs. M. Krumins and into Yugoslav by Messrs. Cicvaric and Miletic. Every day for 30 days these four people faithfully kept the ship's passengers acquainted with the latest news and also translated the ship's daily orders.

7. Welfare Fund: At Suez I was handed a sum of 50 Egyptian pounds to purchase amenities for the trip. At Aden, through the ship's Chief Purser, I bought fruit (bananas and apples), sweets and cigarettes. The fruit was distributed amongst the passengers as an extra at several meals and every passenger received a bag of sweets on Equator Day. The children also received sweets and fruit at a special children's party on Saturday, 30th October, and also on other occasions. The cigarettes were distributed at the end of the trip amongst all those who had helped me in so many different ways, as translators, teachers, librarians, typists, musical organisers, etc.

8. Welfare Work: During the whole trip much of my time was taken up in assisting the Escort Officer in general welfare work. Apart from the more routine problems such as accommodation, mess arrangements, health of the passengers, lost property, etc., which were the concern of the Escort Officer, all kinds of special problems arise on such a voyage.

It must be realised that many of these people are in a neurasthenic state after their gruelling experiences in Europe.

The hardships and privations they have suffered for years have left their mark on many of them and for this reason they need sympathetic though at the same time firm treatment.

It would take pages to narrate all the problems arising but one or two occurrences will serve to illustrate the type of problem encountered.

One lady had a mildly sick baby who required hospital treatment. This lady, however, seemed to suffer from a phobia of doctors. The child was brought to hospital to receive appropriate treatment but after a few hours the mother took it away, unknown to doctors and nurses. This happened three times and only the very definite threat of putting the whole family off at Colombo brought the hysterical woman to her senses.

Another hysterical woman declared that certain Ukrainian women had blackened her character, by spreading rumours that she had slept with a member of the crew. I summoned the two women she named to a conference, together with the accused woman's husband. The two Ukrainian women denied having made specific charges and, fortunately, the husband said he had complete faith in his wife. I warned the two women of the seriousness of such defamation of character in our country and the affair died down. It transpired that the accused woman was a German, married to an Ukrainian, and national jealousy was at the root of the problem.

This national jealousy is very real, especially in the close life lived on board a ship, and a great deal of tact is needed in dealing with it. One group watches you closely lest you favour the other.

The intense heat of the Suez Canal and Red Sea, followed by high seas all the way from Colombo to Melbourne, which caused much seasickness, are trying to passengers living in such crowded conditions, especially with 123 young children on board, but most realised their good fortune in escaping from a futureless existence in Europe. Their eagerness to hear about Australia and to learn English indicated that they were anxious to succeed in their new country. At all times, too, willing helpers offered their services voluntarily to assist me in my work amongst them.

One big problem, however, remained throughout the trip, namely, the preferential treatment extended by the Government to the Suez embarkees.

A very large number of the Genoa group were married men from the British and American Zones in Germany, who had been compelled to proceed to Australia ahead of their families and, of course, they began to complain when they saw so many families, with old parents and very young children, being embarked at Suez. When they discovered that all these people had signed a contract for one year they were still more resentful and a deputation of these men came to see me. All I could say, was that the Australian Government must have its own good reason for making an exception of these people. The Suez group had apparently enjoyed better conditions because they had far more money than the people from Germany and this did not improve matters.

I feel that one cannot blame these men for being restive at the rather anomalous position. The conditions under which their wives and children are living in DP camps in Germany are far from good and the constant threat of war does not help to ease their minds. It must be remembered that the wives and children of these men ahead of families are all good types, having been selected, like their husbands, by Australian selection teams and I feel that it is the bounden duty of the Australian Government to bring out these wives and families as soon as possible. The men who have preceded them will not really settle down till they are re-united with their families.

With 14 babies under 12 months and 123 children between 1 and 12 years of age the ship's 2 doctors and 2 nurses had their hands full. Only by enlisting the services of three volunteer nurses were they able to carry. Two of the babies were as young as 2 months and after a losing struggle by the doctors to save prematurely born twins who were only 3 months old, one ^{Francica} Marija Gorjup, died early on 5th November and the other, ^{Marija} Francica, has only a faint chance of surviving. The deceased child was buried at midnight on 6th November after a short service conducted by the Captain and attended only by the father, the ship's officers, the doctors and nurses, the Escort Officer and myself.

Immediately we left Colombo the seas ran rather high and continued so all the way to Melbourne, conditions at times being quite stormy. As a result, seasickness was very prevalent. About 90% of the women and a few men were affected and many remained so for two weeks. We made efforts to encourage these sick people to eat a little and to get up into the fresh air but in the latter part of the trip this was impossible as conditions were so cold and stormy. I feel that more nurses are required for work amongst the women and children when so many families are on board. Fortunately nearly all the women had husbands to help them and care for the children.

9. Display of National Handicraft: On Monday, 15th November, an exhibition of national handicraft, done in the camps and on the ship, took place in the library. The excellent needlework, woodwork, etc. Created great interest and illustrated the artistic talent possessed by so many of our new immigrants. The display was arranged by Miss Marija Banicevic, who has had much organising experience amongst Yugoslavs in El Chatt Camp.
10. Death of second child: The other twin baby, Marija Gorjup, died at 9.45 pm. on Sunday, 14th November. The parents have decided to have the child buried in Melbourne when the ship arrives.

11. Conclusion: In concluding this report I should like to express my appreciation of the excellent assistance always given me by Captain Stagnaro and his officers, especially the Chief Purser, Mr. Marega. Nothing I asked for was refused and the captain's friendly, democratic manner helped greatly to make the voyage a pleasant one. He attended every function arranged and entertained some of the passengers, as well as the Escort Officer and myself, to dinner in his cabin on several occasions. The captain and all officers also dined one day with the passengers. There was hardly one "Forbidden" sign on the boat and passengers were allowed access to decks outside the officers' cabins - a privilege they did not abuse. After the high-handed treatment received by DP's in Germany it was refreshing to find such cordial relations existing between all the ship's complement, from the captain down, and the passengers. The fact that so many of the Suez group could speak Italian strengthened the friendship between passengers and crew.

The Escort Officer, Mr. F. Finckenhagen, who carried out his duties most conscientiously and capably, also gave me complete freedom in my sphere of activity and it was a pleasure to cooperate with him in welfare work.

Despite many difficulties, the trip was by general consent a happy one.

Dear Sir,

I.R.O. SHIPS. With reference to our telephone conversation of this morning we thank you for your advice that the "Wooster Victory" is still required to disembark passengers at Melbourne. As requested we are sending the Master a radio message to this effect and as we mentioned in our conversation this morning he expects to reach Melbourne on Monday, 15th November.

You also mentioned to us that the "San Francisco" has been delayed in departure from Europe and is now unlikely to reach Australia until about the middle of December.

We confirm that we have sent a radio message to the "Castelbianco" asking the Master to inform us of his itinerary and estimated date of arrival at Sydney.

Yours faithfully,

For L.J. Morshead,
